2021-22 Lecture Season Outlook

- The 2021-22 lecture season is underway in the TF theater
- Our Lectures Team has scheduled 16 MMLs and 5 Premier Lectures, planning for in-person lectures in the theater. If the situation changes and in-person lectures are once again curtailed, we will move to the Zoom virtual platform.
 - Our Zoom license is normally capped at 100, but is quickly expandable to accommodate greater registrations.
- We have devised a method to provide closed captioning capability in the theater via Zoom for lectures, thereby saving significant costs for hiring an in-person captioner.

Information Technology Team

- Transition from the 2020/2021 website to the new season website went smoothly under the direction of Jim Plasker.
- Added capability for paid LLL events on Zoom: we now have a direct linkage from the registration in event booking to Zoom.
- Electronic tickets with QR codes were a success at our first two Premier Lectures and will continue to be used for future PLs.
 - Volunteers have been trained to scan QR code admission tickets from their iPhones and are working as part of the Lobby Team.
- Shared online file access for the LLL Board of Directors and Team leads, to facilitate LLL volunteer operations and communication, was accomplished under the direction of Neal Wring.

Volunteer Highlights

- LLL has approximately 100 volunteers working across 30 functions.
- We are actively using volunteers to:
 - Help in the lobby during Monday Morning and Premier Lectures
 - Write for LifeLine, Pebble News, and the PebbleCreek Post
 - Plan for upcoming trips
 - Introduce lectures and speakers
 - Monitor ongoing classes, plan schedule changes, and plan for additional sections of classes already scheduled
 - Help people establish LLL accounts and register for classes, generate QR codes, post photos and documents to the LLL website, and compile and generate class and lecture registration rosters
- The Volunteer Spotlight program was initiated with Jim Plasker as our first recipient. Our second recipients will be published soon.

Volunteer Opportunities

- CO-DIRECTOR OF VOLUNTEERS: Please see Pam O'Shea for details.
- WRITERS: Writers are a part of the Marketing Team and are crucial to creating interest in LifeLong Learning events. You will receive information about LLL events from the directors and use that information to write event descriptions designed to entice and encourage residents to register for them. Your writeups will be proofed and then placed on the website and in the SCHEDULE.
- PROOFREADERS: Also part of the Marketing Team, proofreaders will check the writeups once they are completed to ensure they are ready for publication.
